Please route this to the appropriate person:

Since the political season is upon us, I am concerned about the door to door canvassers at this time. I had my first one today, and she had to take off her mask to be heard, which defeats the purpose of wearing a mask. For elections in 2020, I think door to door is a bad idea.

Please consider this issue and inform all candidates to conduct their campaigns in other ways besides door to door.

Thank you for listening,
